The University of Illinois

The University of Illinois

The alma mater statue welcomes students and visitors to campus.

Since its founding in 1867, the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has earned a reputation of international stature. Its distinguished faculty, outstanding resources, breadth of academic programs and research disciplines, and talented and diverse student body constitute an educational community ideally suited for scholarship and research. Located in east central Illinois in the twin cities of Urbana and Champaign (population 110.000), the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is the state's flagship public university.

Students

The University has a fundamental commitment to undergraduate education. Nearly 26,000 undergraduate students are enrolled in 10 undergraduate divisions, which together offer some 4,000 courses in more than 150 fields of study. The divisions are: the College of Agriculture, College of

The Krannert Center for the Performing Arts hosts more than 300 performances each year.

Applied Life Studies. College of Commerce and Business Administration. College of Education. College of Engineering, College of Fine and Applied Arts, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, College of Communications, Institute of Aviation and School of Social Work.

Undergraduate admission is highly selective. In a recent freshman class, the average student was in the top 10 percent of his or her high school graduating class and scored in the top 10 percent of those taking the national college entrance examination. Approximately 9.000 graduate and professional students are enrolled in more than 100 disciplines.

On campus and in the community, Illinois students participate in a variety of organizations and activities. Student volunteers gave more than 52,000 hours of community service in blood drives, day care centers, prisons, senior citizen centers and tutoring programs last year for organizations like Volunteer Illini Projects and Student Ambassadors.

Campus activities such as Take the Lead bring in a diverse selection of community and University people to help students improve their leaderships skills in public speaking, team building, problem solving, time management and many other areas.

World-class Faculty

Consistently ranked among the nation's top 50 research universities. the University of Illinois is the home of more than 80 members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Sciences or the National Academy of Engineering. Ten scientists have received the National Medal of Science, and more than 60 have received the National Science Foundation Young Investigator Award while on the faculty. At Illinois, research has a home in libraries, laboratories. and classrooms where it provides a real-life context for instruction and learning.

University Library

Academic resources on the campus are among the world's finest. The University Library is the third largest academic collection in the nation, housing more than 15 million items in the main library and in the more than 40 departmental libraries and units. Only Harvard and Yale have larger collections. The library's computerized cataloging system was the first in the world to serve as the primary access to a large academic library. Users have worldwide access to the collections through the Internet.

Computing

A leader in supercomputing applications, the University is home of NCSA (National Center for Supercomputing Applications) where Mosaic web browsing software was first developed. Since first released in 1993, Mosaic has spawned exponential growth in the use of the world wide web. NCSA staff also have been instrumental in promoting world wide web access at the White House and in the city of Chicago.

Cross-disciplinary Research

Students and scholars find the University an ideal place to conduct cross-disciplinary research. The most visible example of the University's commitment to such study is the Beckman Institute for Advanced Science and Technology, where 18 research groups from nearly two dozen disciplines work within and across the following three main research themes: biological intelligence, human-computer intelligent interaction, and molecular and electronic nanostructures.

The Arts

A major center for the arts, the campus attracts dozens of nationally and internationally renowned artists each year to its widely acclaimed Krannert Center for the Performing Arts. Designed by alumnus Max Abramovitz. an architect of New York City's Lincoln Center, the facility has four indoor theaters and an outdoor amphitheater. Together, they host more than 300 performances each year. The University also supports three major museums: the Krannert Art Museum and Kinkead Pavilion, second only to the Art Institute of Chicago among Illinois public art museums, the World Heritage Museum and the Museum of Natural History.

Other major facilities include the multipurpose Assembly Hall (16,000 seats), which hosts concerts, convocations, theater, and sporting events: Memorial Stadium (69,000 seats), site of Big Ten Conference football games; and the Intramural-Physical Education Building, one of the largest recreational facilities of its kind on a university campus.

Partnership with the State

Also integral to the University mission is a commitment to partnerships with many sectors of Illinois business and industry. Each year more than 60,000 Illinois residents participate in scores of conferences, institutes, credit and non-credit courses, and workshops presented on campus and statewide. University-sponsored programs in both urban and rural areas of the state bring University faculty to the citizens of Illinois to share their expertise in food industries. health, K-12 education, and economic development, to name a few.

The Institute for Competitive Manufacturing has succeeded in solving business and manufacturing problems in hundreds of Illinois firms by matching student project teams with businesses in need.

Our Graduates Succeed

Freshman retention and overall graduation rates are well above the national averages. In fall of 1994, 91 percent of freshmen entering in 1993 returned for their sophomore year. The 1994 graduation rate for students who entered the university in 1988 on a full-time basis was 80 percent. The national average for fouryear schools is approximately 50 percent. More than 75 percent of the 1993 graduating seniors applying to law school were accepted by at least one school endorsed by the American Bar Association. Medical school admissions are also impressive with typically more than 200 hundred students are admitted each year.

Did you know . . .

- ... More than 91 percent of University of Illinois seniors seeking employment obtain positions within eight months of graduation? Nearly 43 percent do so before graduation.
- . . . Illinois was the first university to offer higher education to students with disabilities? It has remained the leader in the field of rehabilitative services.
- ... Some of the most popular majors at the University of Illinois are: accounting, electrical engineering, architecture, biology, psychology and agricultural economics?
- . . . In 1994, Fiske Guide to Colleges gave the University of Illinois a five-star rating in academics? Edward Fiske called the University of Illinois "a giant among academic institutions, ranking among the nation's great universities."

Illini Union contains meeting rooms, a hotel, restaurants, a bowling alley, a billiard room and computer laboratories.

Learning and participating are important outside, as well as inside, the classroom. And at the University of Illinois, the opportunities are as limitless in extracurricular arenas as they are in academic arenas.

Housing

First-rate residence halls with good food, the nation's largest fraternity and sorority system, independent housing and a wide range of apartments provide broad choices of where and how to live.

Activities

More than 700 student organizations provide an outlet for every interest. Irom the philanthropies of Volunteer Illini Projects to the rock music of student radio station WPGU. There are more than 40 student organizations for minority interests.

Sports and recreation

The Intramural-Physical Education Building is one of the largest complexes on any campus, with four gymnasiums, 23 handball/racquetball courts, weight and exercise equipment, indoor and outdoor pools, tennis courts and more. The U of I has one of the most comprehensive intramural sports programs in the nation. If the great outdoors is more to your liking, the university's 1.500-acre Allerton Park includes sculpture gardens, formal gardens and natural woodlands.

Bill Cosby is just one of the many entertainers who have appeared at the Assembly Hall.

Culture and entertainment

The domed Assembly Hall seats more than 16,000 for rock concerts, ice shows, circuses, Broadway musicals and, of course, Illinois basketball. Beautifully restored Foellinger Auditorium on the Quad seats 1,750 for concerts, films and speakers. And the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts, holds four theaters for plays, dance and concerts by such famed names as the Chicago Symphony and Itzhak Perlman.

Off campus

Champaign and Urbana, with a population of 110,000, offer shopping, restaurants, movie theaters, night spots and many other big-city amenities. Yet, they retain a Midwestern college-town atmosphere.

The Intramural and Physical Education Building is one of the largest complexes of its type on any college campus.

Illinois' Commitment to Success

The goal of each sports program within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics at the University of Illinois is to strive toward success. The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics has taken a comprehensive approach to the success of the student-athlete. The PACE program (Personal Achievement in Career and Education) is designed to meet the total needs of the student-athlete. Those needs served by the PACE program are: 1) the student's objectives as a scholar: 2) the student's requirements as an athlete, and 3) the student's personal goals as an individual.

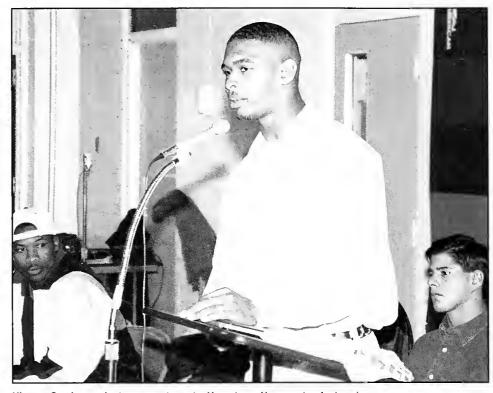

This comprehensive balance of academic excellence, athletic achievement and personal well-being is stressed daily by the administrative staff and coaches, Inevitably, a student-athlete's playing days will end, but with the help of the U's PACE program, each Fighting Illini athlete will be fully prepared for career and personal challenges ahead.

Among the elements stressed by the academic services department to assure student-athlete success are counseling and tutorial services, a monitoring program and a state-of-the-art computer laboratory.

Athletically, the University of Illinois has long supported a broad-based sports program. Its coaching staff and facilities are among the nation's best. The UI's support units include excellent staffs for recruiting, equipment, facility maintenance, fund raising, publicity and promotion. Its sports medicine staff not only assists student-athletes in strength training and conditioning, but also in personal health maintenance.

As important as the UI's commitment is to the student-athlete's performance in the classroom and on the field, it also considers the individual's spiritual and emotional needs, and, his/her career objectives. Fighting Illini student-athletes are afforded the opportunity to attend a variety of seminars during their collegiate experience, helping them enhance their future following athletics. Among the seminars offered are those in career placement, financial planning, time and stress management, sexual harassment, drug and alcohol education and player/agent relations.

Kiwane Garris speaks to youngsters at a Hometown Heroes stop last spring.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics also sponsors a student athletic advisory board, which is made up of representatives from all 17 Fighting Illini intercollegiate athletic teams.

The strong relationships built within the vast Illinois alumni networking system provide excellent opportunities for all student-athletes, whether it be for summer jobs, internships or, ultimately, in career placement after graduation. Once the individual's career is established, the DIA asks for his/her participation in a follow-up program that allows current student-athletes to benefit from their predecessors' experiences. Former student-athletes are asked to return to campus for seminars and discussions that serve to provide guidance and understanding for future graduates.

While at the University of Illinois, student-athletes are encouraged to participate in the DIA's community-out-reach program, including the "Hometown Heroes" program. The program is designed for student-athletes to serve as role models for area youth. It is just one part of the complete commitment to success made at the University of Illinois. This commitment to success is not a one-time event for UI student-athletes, but rather an on-going practice.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois exercises final authority over the administration and governance of the University within limits fixed by the Illinois Constitution and state law.

Under legislation approved by the General Assembly and signed by the governor in early 1995, trustees of the University are to be appointed by the governor, starting January 1, 1996. Before then, trustees had been elected statewide by the citizens of Illinois in November general elections.

As before, there will be nine trustees. Appointed trustees will serve for six years. Terms will be staggered, with three to expire every two years. All trustees serve without pay.

In addition to the nine trustees, the governor of Illinois is an exofficio member of the board. Three students, one each from Urbana-Champaign. Chicago and Springfield, serve single-year terms. Student trustee votes are advisory only. Student trustees continue to be elected by students on their respective campuses.

The chairman of the board is elected annually, in January, from among the nine trustees. The 1995 chairman is Thomas R. Lamont.

The nine trustees on this page will serve through 1995 and may or may not be on the board after that.

Chancellor Michael T. Aiken

Michael Aiken became the sixth chancellor of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign July 1, 1993, Aiken is an internationally recognized sociologist who has specialized in the analysis of organizations and issues of community power and social change.

At Illinois. Aiken has launched a campus-wide strategic planning campaign. The goals of this planning are contained in "A Framework for the Enture." As the institution changes to meet demographic and technological developments, the report says, the University of Illinois remains committed to providing students a practical, quality education. Key principles in the Framework include the university's intentions to "invest in people." continue building upon its broad range of scholarship and research, "accord full value" to its teaching mission, invest in the facilities and environment faculty and students need to do their work, increase the exploration and use of new teaching and information technologies. and strengthen its scope in international studies.

Before coming to Illinois. Aiken was provost of the University of Pennsylvania, where he also had served as a faculty member in the department of sociology, chairman in sociology and dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

From 1963 to 1984, Aiken held faculty and administrative posts at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, with time away at Columbia University. Washington University in St. Louis, and two Belgian universities, the Katholicke Universitait te Lewven and the Université Catholique de Louvain.

Aiken's wife, Catherine Comet, is the musical director of the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Symphony Orchestra. They have one daughter, Caroline.

Division of Intercollegiate Athletics

Division of Intercollegiate Athletics

The forerunner of the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics (DIA), the University of Illinois Athletic Association. was chartered in 1892 as a not-forprofit corporation by the state of Illinois. It was charged with overseeing and conducting the University's intercollegiate athletic programs and associated support services, and operated as a separate entity.

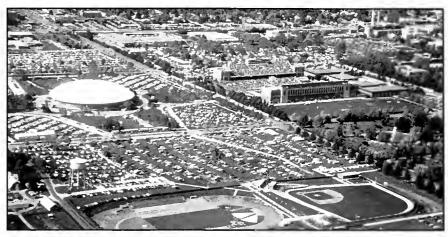

After the state legislature voted in June 1989 to bring the UI athletics within the University proper, the DIA assumed the functions and responsibilities of the Athletic Association. The DIA officially began operations July 1, 1989.

The director of athletics is the division's chief executive officer, and reports directly to the chancellor of the Urbana-Champaign campus. The chancellor has final say regarding the athletic program in all areas except for budget and approval of major appointments. Those decisions rest with the UI Board of Trustees.

The Athletic Board serves the DIA in an advisory capacity. It is composed of 18 members.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics receives neither state tax dollars nor student fees. The University of Illinois is able to fully fund the NCAA-maximum allowable number of athletic scholarships for student-athletes in its 17 sport programs, as well as maintain top-notch facilities and coaching staffs, with revenues from three major sources. Those sources are: gate receipts from football and men's basketball, television and radio rights for those two sports, and donations to the Fighting Hlini Scholarship Fund.

The FISF contributions provide the 350 scholarships in nine men's and eight women's sports at an average annual cost of $9.818 for in-state tuition and $11,100 for out-of-state tuition.

The Assembly Hall, Memorial Stadium, the Atkins Tennis Center, Illinois Field, and the Outdoor Track and Field Stadium are on the south end of campus.

Athletic Facilities

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics utilizes H facilities for competition and the administration of its 17 varsity sports. They are: Memorial Stadium, Assembly Hall, Huff Hall, Illinois Field, the Outdoor Track and Field Stadium, the Armory, Atkins Tennis Center, the Intramural and Physical Education Building. Kenney Gym. the University of Illinois Golf Courses and administrative offices, temporarily housed in Illini Plaza.

In 1992, the DIA completed an $18 million renovation project on Memorial Stadium.

Football is not the only athletic program receiving benefits from new and improved facilities. The most recent addition to the University of Illinois athletic physical plant is the Atkins Tennis Center, which opened in November 1991.

The baseball and track teams will begin their eighth seasons next spring in their respective facilities. Illinois Field is a first-rate 1500-seat baseball facility, and is targeted for a future expansion to accommodate 5,000 fans.

The nationally acclaimed track teams are primed for another year of competition in their $2.2 million stadium, for which future plans include a press box and seating for up to 12,000.

The men's basketball team plays its games at the 16,000-seat Assembly Hall, just south of Memorial Stadium, while the women play at Huff Hall.

Hulf Hall, the home of Illinois basketball from 1925-63 when it was known as Huff Gym, is in the midst of a step-by-step renewal process designed to upgrade it as a practice and/or competition site for volleyball, women's basketball, wrestling and gymnastics events.

Groundbreaking took place in October 1994 for the 40.000 square foot Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building, located on the east-west axis between Atkins Tennis Center and the Assembly Hall. The facility will house the offices of not only the administration and most of the coaches, but also those of the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund, accounting and personnel, and marketing and promotions.

A "Park of Tradition," which will celebrate and commemorate the history of Fighting Illini athletics, will lead pedestrians from the southeast corner of Fourth Street and Kirby Avenne to the main entrance on the west side of the structure. It is around that main entrance that a Fighting Illini athletics hall of fame will be situated.

The benefactors for the project are Gary and Carlotta Bielfeldt of Peoria and their family.

The Assembly Hall

There is just one facility that could host not only Fighting Illini Basketball, but also the Ice Capades, Jay Leno, Whitney Houston, Garth Brooks, Stevie Wonder, Hammer, Ray Charles, Amy Grant, Broadway plays and Bill Cosby, That place is the Assembly Hall, which celebrated the 30th anniversary of its first basketball game in March 1993.

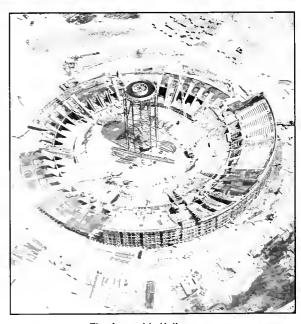

One of the world's most unique arenas, the Assembly Hall has won world-wide acclaim for its architectural design—a design that has been used as a model for more than 125 buildings around the globe. The Assembly Hall was built between 1959 and 1963 at a cost of $8.35 million. The structure consists of two concrete bowls placed face to face: the 100-foot diameter of the dome makes it the largest of its kind in the world.

Its circular seating arrangement makes the Assembly Hall an ideal place to watch an event; it gives each of the spectators (potentially 16,150 for basketball) an excellent, unobstructed view of the exciting action on the court. That capacity has been stretched to overflowing on 51 occasions. The all-time attendance mark was set March 1, 1987, when 16,793 Fighting Illini fans enjoyed a victory over eventual national champion Indiana. Prior to its first game in the Assembly Ilall–March 4, 1963—the Fighting Illini played at Huff Hall.

Illinois has enjoyed great success in the Assembly Hall. In 33 seasons, the team has won 77 percent of the games it has played (332-99). In fact, in a recent two-year period, the Fighting Illini went on a streak of 34 wins at the Hall.

In 1994-95, 221,772 fans, an average of 15,841 per game, came through the Assembly Hall turnstiles. That average is Illinois' highest since the 1989-90 season (16,034) and the third-highest season average in 33 years at the Hall.

In 1970-71, the Assembly Hall accommodated an NCAA recordsetting 177,408 spectators (since broken), when all 11 home games were sellouts.

Director of Athletics Ron Guenther

The University of Illinois' intercollegiate athletics program has made tremendous strides under the leadership of fourth-year director Ronald E. (Ron) Guenther, and 1995-96 could be a season when the labors of his first three years begin to pay big dividends.

Consider some of what has happened within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics since Guenther was named athletic director May 14, 1992:

- Illinois teams placed higher than a year ago in 12 of the 19 Big Ten championships in which they competed in 1994-95, while five others had about the same standing as they did in 1993-94.
- Illinois' football team won its first Bowl game in four years and had sellouts in each of its last two regular-season home games.
- Illinois' men's basketball program advanced to the NCAA tournament for the third consecutive year and registered the third-highest attendance mark ever at the Assembly Hall in 1994-95.
- The Fighting Illini wrestling program, under Coach Mark Johnson, placed ninth at the NCAA tournament, its best finish in 37 years.
- UTs volleyball program advanced to its 10th consecutive NCAA tournament bid in 1994.
- Illinois hired Theresa Grentz, coach of the 1992 U.S. Olympic Team, as its women's basketball coach in May 1995.
- The Illini women's track program swept both the indoor and outdoor team titles in 1995.
- Nearly half of all Fighting Illini student-athletes had a grade-point average of 4.0 or better (on a 5.0 scale) in 1994-95.
- The DIA's corporate sponsorship program yielded approximately $575,000 in 1994-95.
- The DIA began construction of the Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building, with completion of the structure scheduled for the spring of 1996.
- Illinois' athletic department completed a successful review of its compliance with the Title IX guidelines.

Guenther assumed the directorship of the DIA following nearly two years with the UI Foundation, where he served from September of 1990 through June of 1992.

He was a partner with The Barofsky Association, a Chicago area investments and marketing firm from March of 1989 until he returned to the University.

From June of 1988 to March of 1989. Guenther was U's interim director of athletics for external operations, administering the development program, public relations, promotions, tickets, merchandise and summer camps. He was responsible for negotiating Illinois' bid to the 1988 Alf American Bowl in Birmingham, Ala.

Guenther spent the previous three years as associate athletic director for development, coordinating UTs Campaign for Excellence in Athletics. That campaign provided the impetus towards upgrading the University's athletic plant for the first time in nearly 60 years. Among the facilities that were targeted and ultimately completed were stadia for baseball and track and field, the Atkins Tennis Center, plus construction of the current football office/training complex. Guenther was instrumental in soliciting gift commitments totaling $15 million.

From May 1983 to June 1985, he served as Illinois' assistant athletic director for Chicago operations. Among his achievements were the creation of the annual statewide caravan for promotion and public relations, and the tripling of the number of donors to the Fighting

Illini athletic program.

Guenther spent eight years at North Central College in Naperville. Ill., including a stint from 1975-79 as director of admissions and also as associate head football coach. From 1979-83, he served as NCC's vice president of development and public affairs. Guenther helped design and implement NCC's successful $15 million Capital Campaign. As associate head football coach, he helped the Cardinals compile a record of 23-12-2, including the school's first winning season in 15 years.

Before moving to North Central College, Guenther coached the offensive line at Boston College from 1971-74.

From 1968-71, he was a teacher and coach in football, wrestling and track for the Evanston Township and Glenbard High School systems in suburban Chicago.

At Illinois, under Head Coach Pete Elliott, Guenther was an all-star offensive guard for the Fighting Illini football team. Among the honors he won during his senior season in 1966 were team Most Valuable Player honors, second-team All-Big Ten laurels. Academic All-Big Ten honors, and the George Huff Award for academic proficiency at the Ul. Guenther was also selected as the University's outstanding senior in physical education.

Guenther, born October 3, 1945, earned two degrees from the University of Illinois, a B.S. in physical education in 1967 and a M.S. in administration in 1968.

It is no accident that Henson has fielded postseason tournament-caliber teams 21 times, including 15 of the last 16 years, and that his collegiate teams have averaged 20 wins per season.

Henson's basketball career began in his home town. After taking his skills to Connors (Okla.) Junior College and New Mexico State (from where he graduated in 1955), he moved to a less familiar vantage point, the sidelines. He ventured immediately into coaching, spending six seasons at Las Cruces High School in New Mexico, where he served as junior varsity coach for two years, before being promoted to head coach. While at LCHS. Henson compiled 145 wins against just 23 losses, capturing three consecutive state championships along the way.

Hardin-Simmons gave Henson his first chance to coach at the collegiate level, and he seized the opportunity by putting together 20-victory seasons on two occasions. Those 20-win seasons sandwiched a 17-win campaign, and each was built around a forward out of Syracuse, N.Y., named Dick Nagy, who now is a 17-year veteran on Henson's coaching staff at Illinois.

Henson's fourth and final season at Hardin-Simmons ended at 20-6. That same year (1966). New Mexico State was finishing at 4-22. The Aggies called upon Henson to rebuild their program, and the next season he produced a 15-11 slate and took the team on the first of six trips to the NCAA tournament.

Of those appearances, the 1970 season was the most fruitful. New Mexico State. led by All-America guard Jimmy Collins, who also serves now as an Illinois assistant coach, finished the season with 27 wins and three losses. The final loss was to eventual-champion, UCLA, in the semifinals of the NCAA tournament. It was the third consecutive time the Bruins had knocked off Henson's Aggies.

New Mexico went on to win its final game against St. Bonaventure and finished third in the NCAA tournament. Members of that 1970 quintet included three players who made names for themselves in the NBA: Sam Lacey (Kansas City Kings). Charlie Criss (Atlanta Hawks) and Collins (Chicago Bulls).

On top of the four 20-win seasons at New Mexico State, Henson won 19 games twice and had only one losing season. Over his 33-year career. Henson has had just four losing seasons. Within two years of all four, he had either won 20 games or led his team to a postseason tournament.

Despite the three years of disappointment John Wooden's teams handed Henson at tournament time, it was Wooden's retirement that paved the way for Henson's arrival in Champaign, UCLA decided to replace Wooden with then-Illinois coach Gene Bartow. Henson was chosen to fill the vacancy left by Bartow, and rebuild a team that finished 8-18 the previous year. He was the third coach in as many years for Illinois.

Henson's combined record for his first three seasons at Illinois was just two games over .500. From then on, only once has he finished under .500.

Former assistant Tony Yates made recrniting inroads to Chicago, and Dick Nagy and Jimmy Collins have strengthened those ties. This has all provided the foundation for a program that is generally considered one of the best in the nation, year-in and year-out.

With the NIT final four appearance in 1980, a Big Ten co-championship in 1984 (after which he was voted ESPN's National Coach of the Year). 14 NCAA tournament appearances, including the Final Four trip to Seattle in 1989, the program has become renowned for its consistently strong teams.

Henson has always been a stickler for defense. His 1966 New Mexico State squad held its opponents to 39 percent shooting from the field. Since he has led the Fighting Illini program, the opponents' combined field goal percentage is 44.4, while the Illini have held their opponents to 69.1 points per game.

Henson and his wife, Mary, live in Champaign and have three daughters. Lisa. Lori and Leigh Anne. Their son. Lou Jr., who had entered the collegiate coaching profession at Parkland College in Champaign, was killed in an automobile accident Nov. 20, 1992. Then Hensons have seven grandchildren – Lacey. Lindsey. Catie, Danny, Haley, Evan and Kristy – with another scheduled for a late fall birth.

Chief Illiniwek

One of the most dramatic and dignified traditions in college athletics is the performance of Chief Illiniwek at the University of Illinois. Since 1926, this symbol has stirred pride and respect in audiences at Memorial Stadium and the Assembly Hall, Illiniwek (pronounced "ill-EYE-nih-wek") was the name of the loose confederation of Algonquin tribes that once lived in the region. The French changed the ending to "ois" in naming what became the state of Illinois.

Illiniwek means "they are men," and former Illinois football Coach Robert Zuppke is believed to have suggested calling the U-symbol Chief Illiniwek. In 1926, Assistant Band Director Ray Dvorak conceived the idea of performing an American Indian dance during halftime of the Illinois vs. Pennsylvania football game in Philadelphia, Lester Leutwiler, a student interested in Indian lore, was chosen for the role. Leutwiler's performance, done in a homemade costume, was received so well that he was asked to continue his dance through the 1928 season.

Webber Borchers, the second Chief Illiniwek, was the first to appear in authentic American Indian regalia. He initiated a campaign to raise money to replace his homemade outfit with an authentic one, but with the Depression on, he received just $15. However, a Champaign merchant stepped in to fund the rest and Borchers was off. He recalled: "In the summer of 1930 I went, at my own expense, to the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. I hitchhiked out, called an Indian agent and explained my mission. He and an Indian trader called in an older Sioux Indian woman. She and two younger women made the suit."

On Nov. 8, 1930 in New York's Yankee Stadium, Illinois faced Army in the seventh game of the season. It was there that Borchers made the first appearance of Chief Illiniwek in that outfit. Since then, five different authentic outlits have been used by Chief Illiniwek. The one used in performances now was purchased in 1983 from Sioux Chiel Frank Fools Crow, and is topped by a headdress of turkey feathers.

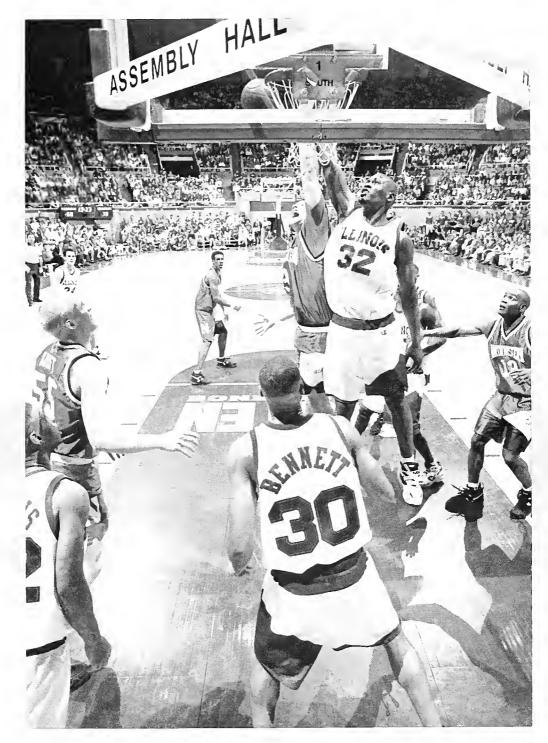

Chief Illiniwek appears at all home men's basketball games, as well as football games and women's basketball games.

Meeting the Fighting Illini

A Look at the 1995-96 Fighting Illini

After setting a school record for three-point field goals and attempts in 1994-95. Lou Henson's Fighting Illini will once again depend on strong perimeter play in the coming season.

Kiwane Garris (6-2. Jr.) and Richard Keene (6-6. Sr.) return as one of the Big Ten's top backcourts. Along with Jerry Hester (6-6. Jr.), the Illini should have one of the nation's top three-point shooting clubs. Jerry Gee (6-8. So.). Brett Robisch (6-11. So.) and Chris Gandy (6-9. Jr.) return as Henson's top interior players. And. Bryant Notree (6-5. So.). Kevin Turner (6-2. So.). Matt Heldman (6-0. So.) and Brian Johnson (6-6. So.) will no longer be freshman coming off the bench. Add recruit Ryan Blackwell (6-8. Fr.). a Parade Magazine All-American, and Henson has the makings of another team that will make some noise in the Big Ten and bid for a shot at the NCAA tourney.

"Our team should be better offensively than we were last year," Henson said, "We are still a little bit on the young side, and that could be a factor with this team. We have one senior in Richard Keene, and of course, six sophomores. But, I do think we have enough experience to be a good basketball team this season. We should be better offensively. We're a year older, and I think we should have a good, competitive basketball team."

Backcourt

Expect Lou Henson to build a large portion of his offense around junior guard Kiwane Garris, who led the Fighting Illini in scoring (15.9 ppg), assists (3.8 apg), steals (1.2 spg), free-throw shooting (.831) and minutes played (33.5 mpg) in 1995. He earned first-team All-Big Ten honors from Basketball B eekly, second-team All-Big Ten mention from the league's coaches and third-team recognition from the media. Garris is one of just two Big Ten players named to the Wooden Award preseason watch list along with lowa's Jess Settles.

"We expect Kiwane to have a very good season, but he will have more help this year." Henson continued, "He's one of the top players in the Big Ten, but he won't have to carry the whole load because we expect to have balanced scoring. I don't think anybody on our team will score a lot of points because we have better, experienced shooters than a year ago."

Henson expects Garris to see more time on the wing where he can maximize his outstanding scoring skills. Garris, a tremendous free-throw shooter who set a U record with 39 straight in 1995, stands second behind only Deon Thomas (994 points) among Illinois scorers after their sophomore seasons with 940 points. Garris is also strong from the three-point arc, shooting 39 percent on treys in 1995.

Kiwane Garris returns for his junior year after leading the Illini in five statistical categories last year, including scoring.

"The Big Ten is really balanced this season. Some people are saying the Big Ten is down as a conference, but I look at it that everyone is reloading. There is never an easy game once you get into conference play, and after being around the Big Ten for 20 years, I know that you need to come ready to play every night. There's just too much talent in the league to take a night off."

- Head Coach Lou Henson

Senior Richard Keene returns as Illinois' all-time three-point field goal leader with 168 treys. 10th all-time in the Big Ten and most among returning conference players this season. He was Illinois' third-leading scorer in 1995 (10.9 ppg), fourth-leading rebounder (3.8 rpg) and was second in assists (3.6 apg). Keene topped 100 assists for the second consecutive year and stands ninth on the Illinois career assists list with 297. Henson expects Keene to see more time at the top of the Illini offense, where, as Illinois' best passer, he is most dangerous.

"Almost everyone was around all summer and played every day. I look for us to pressure teams more and try to run more than we have the past couple of seasons. We've got some guys back who have been through the Big Ten at least once and know what to expect each and every night. This team has a number of guys who can come in and do the job."

- Junior Kiwane Garris

"Richard is our only senior," Henson said. "He has plenty of experience and will be one of our top players. We'll probably let Kiwane bring the ball down the court because of his outstanding ball-handling ability, but you will see Richard Keene at the point because he sees the floor well and does a good job of delivering the ball. He has proven that he can shoot the three-pointer, and he adds a lot to our offense when he is on.

Sophomore Kevin Turner is an outstanding shooter who came off the bench with some big points in 1995. He is expected to rotate with Keene and Garris among the two guard positions, especially on the wing where he is a dangerous three-point shooter.

Sophomore Matt Heldman saw limited action in 21 games last year, but is an outstanding shooter who will spell Garris and Keene at either guard spot.

"Kevin Turner and Matt Heldman may have improved more than any of the other players on the team over the summer," Henson said. "Kevin is really an outstanding shooter who can score points quickly, and Matt has come back in the fall in great shape and should provide quality relief off the bench.

"When you look at our perimeter this season, we not only have experienced players like Kiwane Garris. Richard Keene and Jerry Hester, we have depth, which we didn't have last year." Henson said. "We have more experienced players who can come off the bench and do a good job for us.

Frontcourt

Jerry Hester is Henson's only returning starter on the front line with the graduation of forward Robert Bennett (8.5 ppg/6.2 rpg) and center Shelly Clark (11.8 ppg/8.3 rpg). Hester was Illinois' fourth-leading scorer (10.8 ppg) and third-leading rebounder (4.8 rpg) in 1995, while shooting a team-high 40 percent from three-point range, and 46 percent on all shots. Henson expects Hester to carry more of the scoring and rebounding load next season.

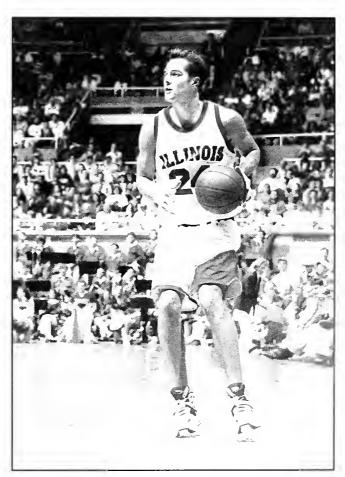

"Jerry Hester should be a much improved player," Henson said. "He's matured as a player and should be one of our leaders. He can score from the perimeter as well as driving to the basket. He was playing much better at the end of last season and we expect him to carry that over to this season."

Sophomore Jerry Gee was Illinois' first frontcourt player off the bench in 1995 and should now replace Bennett at power forward while alternating with Robisch in the post. Gee averaged 6.0 points and 3.4 rebounds for the season, but nearly 9.0 points off the bench over the final eight games of the season. He gives the Illini more seoring range from the power forward slot and will need to pick up much of the rebounding slack with the loss of Bennett and Clark.

"Jerry Gee has improved tremendously over last year," Henson said. "He can definitely shoot the ball, and he needs to be force on the boards. With the loss of Bennett and Clark on the front line, Jerry needs to lead us on the boards. His interior defense also will be key to our whole defensive effort."

Redshirt sophomore Brett Robisch showed excellent improvement in the final weeks of the 1995 season and is expected to battle for the starting center spot in the coming season. Robisch shot 59 percent from the field and has excellent range out to the three-point arc.

A three-year starter and three-point specialist, senior guard Richard Keene is Illinois' all-time leading three-point shooter.

Junior Jerry Hester is the Fighting Illini's only returning starter on the front line.

"One of big differences from last year to this year is that last year our two inside people gave us strength inside and scoring." Henson said. "This year, our big guys can score from the perimeter, and that will open up the offense considerably. As for rebounding, everyone will have to pick up a few more to take up the slack of losing Clark and Bennett from last year.

"Brett Robisch really came on at the end in practice last season and he is very dangerous offensively with his shooting range." Henson continued, "Teams will have to respect him clear out to the three-point line. Brett needs to continue to work on his strength and rebounding."

Sophomore Bryant Notree, who missed a major portion of last year's preseason practice time clearing up his transcript with the NCAA Clearinghouse, will be with the team from the beginning this time and should be a major contributor at as many as three positions. Notree can play shooting guard, small forward and may also take his powerful body down low to the power forward slot when Henson wants to use a "fast" team.

"All the guys worked really hard over the summer and showed up in good shape. We're focused on doing the things that will make this a successful season. Hur strength is the experience that we have coming back. Unly one guy hasn't played before, so our bench should be much better. We'll have just one freshman instead of six like last season. With the lack of size, we'll be playing more of an up-tempo game that plays to our strength."

- Senior Richard Keene

"Bryant is much improved over last season." Henson said. "He is a very versatile player who should really help us this year. He has continued to work on his shooting and defense, and if he continues to improve, has a great future at Illinois."

Redshirt junior Chris Gandy started seven games for the Illini early in the 1994-95 season, but saw limited action as the season progressed. An excellent shooter, shown by his 56 percent field goal shooting. Gandy lost some weight during the summer and came back in the fall playing very well. He should join Gee. Robisch and Blackwell in filling out the front line.

"Chris Gandy has seen an opportunity to play with the loss of Bennett and Clark." Henson said. "He lost some weight over the summer which will help his quickness. and we know what kind of shooter he is. Chris is someone we'll watch very closely during the preseason drills."

Redshirt sophomore Brian Johnson averaged nearly eight minutes per game off the bench and should once again back up Hester and Notree at the small forward position.

"Brian Johnson came off the bench and helped us at times last year." Henson said. "He will come into a game and not make a lot of mistakes."

Freshman Ryan Blackwell also be a force on Henson's front line. A Parade Magazine All-American as a senior, Blackwell has the shooting range and ball-handling ability to play small forward or shooting guard, and the size (6-8, 207) to play inside. Blackwell could contend for

"Ryan Blackwell is the best 6-foot-8 player that I've ever seen at going to the basket." Henson said. "He has the potential to be a great player here at Illinois, and could help us immediately at a number of positions."

The Schedule

Illinois once again plays one of the nation's toughest schedules. On the slate in 1995-96 includes a return game with Duke, the annual Braggin' Rights game with Missouri in St. Louis, California, Kansas State and the Rainbow Classic that includes Syracuse, Massachusetts, North Carolina State, Southern Cal. Missouri, Rhode Island and Hawaii. Combine that with the always-tough Big Ten and you have the makings for a tough road to postseason play. But, the Illini have never backed down from a challenge.

"This is one of the toughest schedules we've played in a number of years, even more so than last year." Henson said, "Traditionally, we've always played tough teams, but this is even tougher than last year when our schedule was ranked as one of the nation's toughest.

The Illini/Pepsi Classie has three other quality teams in Southeast Missouri State from the Ohio Valley (Conference). San Jose State from the Big West and Ball State from the MAC," Henson continued. "Of course. Ball State went to the NCAA tournament last year and knocked off Arizona in the first round, so we know they have a real fine team."

GOLDEN BEARS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: With back-to-back top five national recruiting classes and four returning starters, the Golden Bears come into this season in anticipation of a deep run into the NCAA tournament. Leading the Bears' interior attack will be senior forward Alfred Grigshy, Grigshy is considered Cal's best inside scorer and rebounder when healthy, but he's only played in 15 of his team's last 57 games. Playing alongside Grigsby at the other forward slot will be Pac-10 Freshman of the Year and first team freshman All-American Tremaine Fowlkes, Fowlkes averaged 13.4 ppg and a team-leading 6.7 rpg despite starting only nine games. Pacing the backcourt will be sophomore point guard Jelani Gardner, who returns after averaging 10.7 ppg and 6.5 apg to claim second team freshman All-America honors.

BLUE DEVILS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Last season Duke suffered through a season in which its 18 losses fied for the most in school history and its two At-C wins equaled the Blue Devils' least in the 42-year history of the league. In 1995, Duke is loaded with plenty-of optimism, starting with the return of its aff-time winningest coach. Mike Krzyzewski, who was absent from the sidelines for much of last year due to back surgery. Leading the backcourt will be pinior All-America candidate Jeff Capel and sophomore Trajan Langdon. Capel led the team in assists, was second in scoring and lat 63 three-pointers, the lifth highest single season total in school history. Langdon played in all 31 games, averaging 11.3 ppg and connecting on 59 trevs. The inside game will need to develop quickly after the graduation losses of NBA draft picks Cherokee Parks and Lrik Meek, leaving them with a trio of junior Greg Newton, freshman Taymon Domzalski and senior Tony Moore, Outlook: EIU lost three players who averaged in double ligures when Derrick Landrus and Louis Jordan graduated, and Johnny Moore transferred. This means that the Panthers' success will again hinge on balanced scoring and how quickly the vounger players blend with the veterans. Three-year starter Johnny Hernandez is the top returning scorer with 8.5 ppg. The point guard also averaged 4.3 apg, which was fourth best in the Mid-Continent Conference. Other returning starters are G-loot-7-in bipinior forward Michael Slaughter, who was fifth in the Mid-Con in rebounding, and 6.9 sophomore forward Frie Frankford, who broke Kevin Duckworth's school record for blocked shots in a season with 55.

FLAMES SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: With just two "impact" players returning to the lineup, coach Bob Hallberg has several question marks in his 1995/96 squad, Senior forward Johnelle Slone is the top returning man after averaging 13/9 ppg last year, while 6-foot-8-inch senior forward Shawi Harlan will lead the rebounding corps following his first season at UE when he averaged 7.0 rpg. After those two players, the Haines have no other returnees with any game experience besides 6-6 senior Mike Lampley, who tore ligaments in his knee early last season. Leading the Flaines' new recrnit list are two jumor college transfers, 6-6 David Greer and 6-7 Ricardo Hale, who should help UE on the boards. Hallberg also signed two of Illinois' top high school prospects in Lason Strojine from Bullalo Grove and Theandre Kimbrough from Zion-Benton.

Sophomore Andrae Patterson suffered a knee inpury midway through last season and was not able to show what kind of player he can be until late in the year. The last of the returning starters in 6-2 sophomore Neil Reed. He separated his shoulder in November, but still managed to average 5.9 ppg and 2.5 apg. Also coming back for the Hoosiers 7-foot center Todd Lindeman, who spent most of last season coming off the bench. Outlook: Four starters return from an lowa team that finished 21-12 overall, 0.0 in the Big Ten and made it to the third round of the NTI tournament in 1994-95. Potential is the key word for Tom Davis' Hawkeyes, as he claims three of the Big Ten's top live returning scorers in jumors Chris Kingsbury, Jess Settles and Andre Woolridge. Settles, the 1994 Big Ten I reshman of the Year, sat out lowa's first sevens games and saw only limited playing time due to a back injury until starting the final 10 games of the season. Kingsbury is lowa's all-time three-point leader and hit nine treys in a single game twice in 1994-95 while averaging more than 24 ppg in the second half of the Big Ten schedule. Woolridge, a transfer from Nebraska, was second in assists in the conference averaging 5.8 per game, Bolstering the inside defense, an lowa weakness last season, will be senior center Rush Millard, who was lost for most of the 1994-95 season due to injuries and eligibility problems.

WILDCATS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Three returning starters will be joined by four talented newcomers to form the nucleus of what head coach Tom Asbury believes will be a team much improved over last years 12-15 squad. KSU has two junior college transfers: Gerald Eaker and Johnnie Williams. Eaker, who began his career at Ohio State before transferring to Southeastern Community College in Burlington, lowa, is the first legitimate center the Wildeats can claim in more than a decade, Williams will be a force on the inside. Benefiting most from this inside help will be senior cost aptain Tyrone Davis, Davis, a center last year, is more smited to play power forward. Helping to improve the team's shooting percentage will be senior point guard Elhot Hatcher and sophomore guard Mark Young. Hatcher was elected to the 1995 Big Eight All-Newcomer Team after transferring to the Wildeats from Grayon County (Texas) Junior College, and Young was named to last year's Big Eight All-Freshman team.

WOLVERINES SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The 1994-95 season marked the end to the Fab Live cra, but Steve Fisher's Wolverines boast a pile of young and versatile talent that hopes to improve on last year's 17-14 record and early exit from the 50 AA tournament. Leading the way is semor point guard Dugan Life, but Fife is the only upperclassman on a team in which eight of the 10 scholarship players are either freshman or sophomores. One of those sophomores, however, is last year's Big Ten Freshman of the Year, power forward Maurice Taylor, Taylor averaged 12.5 points per game to go along with 5.1 rebounds and will be joined in the front court by either Jerod Ward or Willie Mitchell at the small forward. Mammoth freshman center Robert Traylor will be a force on the inside while freshman sharpshooter Louis Bullock rounds out the back court.

SPARTANS SCOUTING REPORT

Ontlook: A new era in the history of Michigan State men's basketball takes place in 1995-96 when Tom Lo takes over the head coaching reigns from Ind Heathcoate, who retired after 24 years of coaching. Ten returning letterwinners, including three starters, come back from a team that went 22-6 last. The Spartans will be strong up front with the return of starting center Lamie Feick, ranked third in the conference in rebounding and senior forwards Quinton Brooks and Daimon Beathca, and junior Jon Garavagha, all of whom started at some time last year. Brooks gears up for his third year as a starter and is the Spartan's top returning scorer. Despite the experience represented up front. Izzo will have the tough task of trying to fill the yord of the graduated back our tandem of Shawn Bespert and I ric Snow.

TIGERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Kelly Thames, the 1993 Big Fight Freshman-of-the-Year is back to lead Missouri in 1995-96, after suffering a season-ending knee injury last year, and the Tigers are missing only one gun from last year's arsenal. Thames will be counted on as the main man in the Missouri offense after averaging 12.1 ppg and 7.1 rpg in his first season. The other big wheel in the Tiger offense will be senior swingman Julian Winfield, who returns after averaging 11.1 ppg and 7.6 rpg. The Figers also bring back another versatile player in junior forward Derek Grimm. At the guard positions, jumor Jason Sutherland and sophomore point guard Kendrick Moore return to make up a solid backcourt for the Tigers, 1 p front. Missouri will once again be tall with 7-foot twins Sammie and Suncon Haley coming back.

WILDCATS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The biggest obstacle facing third-year coach Bicky Byrdsong as his Wildeats strive to improve on last year's 5-22 record, is the lack of veteran experience on the team. Just three seniors return with only center Dan Kreft lettering at least twice. Joining Kreft are seniors Brian Chamberlain, a starter at the power forward slot, and reserve guard Craig Duerksen. Leading the team will be sophomore point guard Geno Carlise, Carlise started 20 games last year as a true Ireshinan and led the team in assists  $(3.9~\mathrm{pg.})$  and minutes played  $(29.6~\mathrm{pg.})$ . He is the team's leading returning scorer  $(11.7~\mathrm{cm})$ pg.). Working in the front court with Chamberlain will be junior center Even Lechmeyer and sophomore small forward Darreton Dean. Rounding out the youth movement will be treshmen guards Julian Bonner. Nick Knapp and Nate Pomeday and freshman forwards Matt Moran and Joe Harmsen.

Outlook: The Buckeyes come into this season with one of the youngest teams in the Big Ten, Eight true freshmen, a redslurt freshman and three sophomores dominate a roster that includes just two juniors and one senior. Senior forward Rick Yudt is the lone returning starter and is the leading scorer and rebounder among OSU's returnees. Also coming back is Carlos Davis, a sophomore guard who was second on the team in assists last year. Sophomore John Lumpkin should add some meat in the middle at 6foot-O-inches, 250 pounds. Empkin is on a football scholar-hip and will rejoin the team in January as he did last year. A majority of the playing time, however, will fall on the shoulders of the Buckeyes' newcomers.

NITTANY LIONS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Last year Penn State made it to the third round of the NTL and the Lions believe their 1995-96 team has the talent to make it to the Big Dance. Losing team leader John Amaechi will make that task difficult, but four of the team's top five scorers return. Junior point goard Dan Earl takes charge at the point and will be joined in the backcourt by sophomore Pete Lisicky. Earl set a school record with 181 assists last year and is set to become one of the best playmakers in the Big Ten. Glenn Sekinda, the team's leading returning scorer at 12.8 per game, will play at small lurward, while the power forward spot will be manned by 6-8, 265-pound "Big House". Phil Williams.

Outlook: Going for a three-peat as Big Ten Conference champion is no easy task but 17-year head coach Gene Keady likes his chances for the 1995-96 season. Three of these seniors. Todd Foster, Roy Hairston and Herli Dove, will be called upon to replace two players central to last season's success in team MVP and All-Big Ten forward Chonzo Martin and guard Matt Waddell, both who were lost to graduation. Additional front court help will be provided by senior power forward Brandon Brantley and sophomore center Matt ten Dam. Freshman forward Bran Cardinal is the son of Illinois Basketball trainer Red Cardinal.

SPARTANS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The good news for the San Jose University basketball team is that lonr of its five starters from last year's squad are back for the 1995-96 season. The Spartans' inside game is led by senior Roy Hammonds, who missed last season due to knee surgery, and senior Sam Allen, a transfer from Washington and member of the 1994 Pac-10 Conference all-newcomer team. Also playing inside will be senior Darren Greene, who led the team in rebounding a year ago and should start this year at small forward. Michigan transfer Olivier Saint-Jean becomes eligible for the sixth game of the season and should see some time playing in the paint. Running the team at point guard will be senior Tito Addison, Joining him in the backcourt will be senior Brad Quiner, the only player to average in double figures in scoring for the Spartans last year.

INDIAN SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: With only one senior and two juniors on the 13-man roster, Southeast Missouri State will have an inexperienced team for the 1995-96 season. Last year six seniors generated 82 percent of the scoring, 69 percent of the rebounding and 65 percent of the assists on the Indian team that finished 13-14 overall. The only returning starter is senior Jerome Days, who made the Ohio Valley Conference all-newcomer team last year after averaging 9.1 ppg and 5.3 rpg. He will be joined by junior college transfers Brad Brown, a point guard, and swingman Reginald Crisp. Another junior college transfer, Terry Mills, is a strong inside player who will help out in the paint. In addition to Mills, William "Bud" Eley will man the post this year after sitting out last year. Sophomores Chris Chambers, who can play either point or off-guard, and Anthony Holt gained valuable playing time as freshmen last year and should stabilize the backcourt.

The Big Ten Conference

A meeting of seven Midwest university presidents Jan. 11, 1895, at the Palmer House in Chicago, was the first development of what would become one of organized sports' most successful undertakings. Those seven men, behind the leadership of James H. Smart. president of Purdue University, established the principles for which the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives. more popularly known as the Big Ten Conference, would be founded.

The Big Ten Conference is celebrating its 100th anniversary during the 1995-96 school year. The Conference, as well as its member institutions, are commemorating the historic birthday with ceremonies and events throughout the year.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the control and administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' lirst known action was to "restrict eligibility for athletics to bonafide. full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with others that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for amateur intercollegiate athletics.

Eleven months after the presidents' meeting, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met again at the Palmer House, and officially established the mechanics of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives." or "Big Ten Conference" or "Western Conference."

The seven universities were: the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois, the University of Michigan, the University of Minnesota. Northwestern University, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin, Indiana University and the State University of Iowa were admitted in 1899. Ohio State joined in 1912. Chicago withdrew in 1946. and Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added three years later in 1919.

After a 40-year period of constancy in membership, the Big Ten recently expanded to 11 members for the first time. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Ten. comprised of Big Ten university presidents, voted to confirm its earlier decision to integrate Pennsylvania State University into the conference. The Nittany Lions begin play in the Big Ten Conference in 1992-93.

rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1906, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence. Freshmen and graduate students were not permitted to compete, training tables (or quarters) were forbidden, and coaches were to be appointed by university bodies "at modest salaries."

Football and baseball were the popular sports prior to 1900. The first "official" sponsored championship was in outdoor track; it was held at the University of Chicago in 1906 and won by Michigan.

Since then, there have been many different athletic events popularized on Big Ten campuses. Some, like football and basketball. became extremely popular, whole others, like boxing, fell by the wayside, Today, the Big Ten sponsors 12 championships for men and 12 for women.

1994-95 Season in Review

Illini finish in upper half of Big Ten, advance to NCAAs

The 1994-95 basketball season started much the same way the past few seasons have for Illinois. The Illini were expected to be one of the better teams in the nation and were ranked No. 25 in the AP preseason poll.

Illinois' season began with an eligibility controversy. Freshman Bryant Notree's initial eligibility was threatened in October because of a question on the validity of one of his high school courses. As a result Notree was not allowed to begin practice with the team. Finally the NCAA Clearinghouse reinstated Notree in November.

The Illini got a scare in their first game at the San Juan Shootout in Puerto Rico when they found themselves trailing American University, an NCAA Division III school, for most of the first half. Illinois rallied in the second half to win the game, 89-87. Kiwane Garris and Robert Bennett led the way tallying 17 and 14 points, respectively.

Illinois then went on to defeat the College of Charleston. 65-57, and Virginia Tech. 85-77, to win the tournament. Though the Illini were 3-0, their somewhat weak showing in Puerto Rico dropped them out of the rankings as they came into a battle against a Duke team that was ranked No. 6 at the time.

The showdown with the defending ACC champions was the first college basketball game ever to be held in the newly constructed United Center in Chicago. Not only was it a homecoming trip for many members of the Illinois team and Duke head coach Mike Krzyzewski, but it also marked the return of center Shelly Clark, who had been serving a five-game suspension.

Illinois took an early lead to surprise the Blue Devils, but was not able to maintain it and found itself down five by the end of the first half. The Illini stayed close as the game progressed, but would up losing, 70-05.

The Illini bounced back after the tough Duke loss to go on a five-game winning streak. After defeating Kansas State, 76-69, on the road, Illinois won its 16th consecutive Illini/Pepsi Classic by defeating Northeastern Illinois, 71-53, and then rolling over Princeton, 59-37, in the championship game, Robert Bennett was named tournament MVP, and Keene and Garris were named to the all-tournament team.

Victories over UC and Mercer finished up the strong Illini run and allowed Illinois to reappear in the AP Poll for the first time since the preseason. It was an honor that wouldn't last long. Three days after earning their No. 23 ranking. Illinois dropped its record to 0-2 in new stadiums in a 76-58 loss to Missouri at the Kiel Center in St. Louis. Nearly 22,000 fans, the highest all-time attendance for a basketball game in Missouri, watched the Illini shoot 31.7 percent from the floor in their worst offensive performance of the year.

Next up for Illini was Connecticut, which was 5-0 at the time. Illinois almost mirrored its previous onting, shooting 31.3 percent in the second half to lose what appeared to be a winnable game, 71-56.

In their last game of 1994, the Illini finally found their jump shots. They posted a 56 percent field goal percentage to down Memphis, 86-76. Jerry Hester poured in 29 points to lead Illinois to the victory. Garris and Keene also scored 16 points a piece.

At long last it was time for the Big Ten season to start. Illinois came roaring into conference play with four strong wins. Garris and Keene combined to score 50 points and heat Ohio State, 79-70, in the Big Ten opener at home. After two road victories against Northwestern and eventual Big Ten champion Purdue, the Illini were ready to tangle with Indiana.

A capacity crowd of 16,150 piled into the Assembly Hall in Champaign to watch Illinois down the Hoosiers, 78-67, and retain its position atop the Big Ten. In the second half. Hester hit two trevs to spark a 13-0 run for the Illini that carry them to victory. Hester finished the game with six three-point field goals, all of which came in the second half, to tie an Illini record.

Once again the Illini appeared in the AP poll, this time at No. 20, their highest ranking yet of the season. As had happened twice before, Illinois' stay in the polls was short. Michigan rolled into town three days later and handed the Orange and Blue a 69-59 defeat.

The loss not only toppled the Illini from first place in the Big Ten, but it also started a three-game losing streak that included a road loss to Minnesota. 77-66, and a home loss to Michigan State, 75-67.

Things looked bleak as Illinois headed into a game at Iowa. At the half, the Illini were down, 42-39, and it looked like their losing skid would be extended to four. But Garris' 14 second-half points turned the game around, and the Illini ended up pulling out a thrilling come-from-behind-victory, 79-74.

Illinois made its 62 percent shooting performance the lowa game look like a fluke in a 73-60 loss to the Badgers in Madison in its next contest.

Spirits were down when they received a much-needed boost from a two-game homestand. Illinois started with a 67-58 victory over Penn State, and then eked out a 104-97 overtime win over lowa in perhaps the team's gutsiest performance of the season. Bennett sank a free throw to send the game into overtime, where the Illini outscored the Hawkeyes, 18-11. Clark scored 25 and pulled down 15 boards, while Garris scored 27.

As had been the trend for Illinois, Illinois followed up the victory with a dismal performance, this time at Michigan State. The Illini were never able to overcome a 30-13 deficit in the first half and ended up losing, 68-58.

Illinois bounced right back, picking up its second overtime win in three games with a 94-88 overtime defeat of Minnesota.

Again Illinois went straight from a peak to a valley, dropping three in a row. After road losses to Michigan, 63-51, and Indiana, 89-85, the Illini came home and took a beating from Purdue, losing 69-56. Poor shooting doomed the Illini right from the start as they shot 20 percent from the field in the first half.

The losing skid put the Illini in a must-win situation for their last two games of the season against two of the worst teams in the conference. Northwestern and Ohio State. Illinois had to win both games to have any hope of receiving an NCAA bid and did, beating Northwestern, 99-77, at home and topping Ohio State, 82-63, in Columbus.

The two victories earned Hlinois a No. 14 seed in the East Regional at the NCAA tournament. Though they led by seven points at the half, the streaky Illini were outscored by 13 points in the second period and fell to the Golden Hurricane, 68-62.

Illinois shot under 40 percent for the ninth time in 1994-95. For the year, the Illini had a .447 shooting percentage, its lowest since 1975.

On the bright side, Illinois finished in the upper half of the Big Ten for the 13th time in the last 15 years and advanced to the NCAN tournament for the third consecutive year and 18th time in school history.

Illinois ended up losing nine of its last 45 games and finished with a 19-12 record overall. The Illini went 10-8 in Big Ten play to tie with Minnesota for lifth place.

DUKE VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 3, 1994, United Center, Chicago, III.

DUKE 70, ILLINOIS 65

Illinois and Duke squared off in the first college basketball game ever to be held in Chicago's United Center. Illinois stayed close to the No. 6 Blue Devils throughout the game, but the Illini were unable to take control due to several key turnovers in the second half. Illinois led most of the first half after jumping off to 6-0 edge, but Duke eventually took the lead at 20-18 with 5-26 remaining in the first half on a Kenny Blakeney three-pointer. In the second half, Illinois rallied from 64-57 to lead 65-64 on a trey by Kiwane Garris, a 16-footer by Richard Keene and another Garns trey with 1:22 remaining Duke then took a 68-65 lead with 21 seconds left. After a Garris miss, the Illini had one last chance for a three-pointer to tie the game, but Brian Johnson's inbounds pass was stolen by Cherokee Parks. Illinois did not score in the last 1:22, while the Blue Devils scored six to win the game. Illinois was led by Garris with 19 points and six assists, followed by Keene who scored 15 and dished out nine assists.

ILLINOIS VS. NORTHWESTERN

Jan. 7, 1995, Welsh-Ryan Arena, Evanston, III.

ILLINOIS 82, NORTHWESTERN 55

The intrastate rivalry between the Illini and the Wildcats continued with Illinois blowing Northwestern out in Evanston. The Illini broke the game wide open with 12.15 left in the first half when they went on a 14-0 run that was capped off by a monstrous Jerry Gee dunk. Illinois went into the lockerroom at halftime with a 20-point lead, primarily due to center Shelly Clark's domination in the paint. He had 14 points and eight boards at the break. The Illini continued to pound Northwestern in the second half, and the Wildcats failed to threaten. Illinois had another hot shooting night, hitting 53.2 percent from the field, which included a 63.3 percent first-half performance. Meanwhile the Wildcats could only muster a 31.1 percent field goal percentage. Cedric Neloms was the one bright spot for Northwestern, scoring 23 points and pulling down eight rebounds

ILLINOIS VS. PURDUE

Jan. 10, 1995, Mackey Arena, West Lafayette, Ind

ILLINOIS 62, PURDUE 58

Lou Henson got his 200th career Big Ten win on his 63rd birthday as the Illini snared a tough road win to improve to 3-0 in the conference. Illinois moved out to a 33-24 halftime lead before a 15-2 run to open the second half gave the Boilermakers a 39-35 lead. The Orange and Blue didn't give up. They battled back and finally tied the game at 54-54 on a thunderous Shelly Clark dunk with 3:19 left. Finally a Richard Keene baseline three-pointer with under a minute to go put Illinois on top for good. Keene paced four Illini scorers in double figures with 16 points, and Robert Bennett pulled down a game-high 10 rebounds. Illinois's defense was particularly good as it held Cuonzo Martin, Purdue's leading scorer, to only 11 points.

ILLINOIS VS. IOWA

Feb. 1, 1995, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, Iowa City, Iowa

ILLINOIS 79, IOWA 74

Illinois snapped a three-game conference losing streak and Lou Henson got his 400th career win at Illinois as the Illini pulled out a rare come-from-behind victory on the road. Illinois was down by as many as seven early before a Robert Bennett dunk tied the game at 10 midway through the first half Bennett would then go on a dunking spree. He ended up with 12 points at the half, all on slams. Richard Keene also ended the half with impressive offensive statistics: a pair of three pointers and eight assists. Despite the great efforts, the Illini still found themselves down 42-39 at the half. In the second half, three pointers by Keene and Kiwane Garris on Illinois' first two possessions produced a three-point lead (45-42) Illinois would never relinquish. Iowa made a run with 1:33 remaining, cutting the lead to 75-74, but a turnaround jumper by Bennett sealed the Illini victory. Garris led the Illini with 23 points, 14 in the second half. Keene finished the game with 17 points and nine assists, and Bennett tallied 18 points. Andre Woolridge led the Hawkeyes with 18 points and 10 assists.

ILLINOIS VS. WISCONSIN

Feb 4, 1995, Wisconsin Fieldhouse, Madison, Wis.

WISCONSIN 73, ILLINOIS 60

Illinois fought hard the entire game, but just couldn't overcome Wisconsin's duo of Michael Finley and Rashard Griffith. In the first half the Badgers shot a blistering 59 percent from the field to build up a 42-28 halftime lead. The Illini battled back in the second half. Twice Wisconsin built 17-point leads. Illinois whittled the Badger lead down to five points with eight minutes left in the game. However, the Badgers finished strong. A monster dunk by Griffith with five minutes left gave Wisconsin a 10-point lead and broke the Illini's back. Illinois failed to hit a three-point shot in the game, the first time in 113 games that it did not net a three. Finley had 27 points, nine assists and eight rebounds, and Griffith had 16 points, eight rebounds and six blocked shots to lead the Badgers. The Illini were led by Shelly Clark with 18 points and Kiwane Garris with 14 points.

All-Time Game-By-Game Scores

(note: all Big Ten Conference games in bold: also Big Ten record in bold: Illinois score listed on left: lineup listed includes regular starters)

Elwood Brown

1 year (6-8)

Leo Hana was put in charge of building the basketball program at Illinois after a women's program had existed for years. A team. led by its playing captain Roy Riley, beat Champaign High School Jan. 6, two weeks before Hana was able to replace Riley with a "professional" coach. Elwood Brown became Illinois' first basketball coach Jan. 20, 1906, and proceeded to turn in a commendable coaching job. especially since the squad lost two of its mainstavs during the season. "The results of the season were on the whole satisfactory. In the future. there will not be such a lack of material as hampered the coach (Brown) this season," wrote the 1907 Illio.

F. L. Pinekney

1 year (1-10)

Pinckney took over the coaching reins for a year in 1907. There was promise for a good season after the solid start the program had made in 1906. More than 100 men tried out for the team. Pinckney found at least three freshman he thought would help the team and placed them on the varsity squad. However, the Western Conference Committee declared the three ineligible. leaving Pinckney with a much depleted team and Illinois with its worst record ever. The decision to make the freshmen incligible gave Pinckney the same problem Brown faced the year before turning out a winning team with limited

Big Ten: 5th place Fletcher Lane

1 year (20-6)

Fletcher Lane's all-time hest winning percentage among Illinois coaches is misleading, since he only coached for one year. His 20-6 team of 1908 benefited from a long Southern trip in which the team beat several YMCA and club teams from Tennessee. Texas, Alabama, and Georgia. The club was billed as a closely-knit group, due in part to the long trip. The players. however, did not appear to appreciate Lane's coaching style, M.G. Dadant, the 1908 captain wrote, "Handicapped as they were by the lack of any competent coaching, the players went through the season in perfect harmony, each one relinquishing any personal feelings that the team might be better as a whole."

2 years (12-10)

H. V. Junl became the first Illinois basketball coach to stay for more than one year. He also became the first former Fighting Illini player to head the Illinois basketball program and was captain of the 1907 squad. After leading Illinois to a 12-10 record over two years, he departed to become a professional baseball player. enjoying stints with the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds. Junl was the son of a former Illinois Congressman and, prior to his death in 1928, was a committeeman in the 35th Ward in Chicago as well as was campaign director for the Republican Party headquarters at the Morrisson Hotel in Chicago.

T. E. Thompson

2 years (14-14)

T. E. Thompson also had a two-year career as head basketball coach at Illinois, compiling a 14-

14 record. Thompson claimed, at the time, to be the only player in Western Conference history to have played five years of collegiate basketball. He was at Northwestern for one year before playing at Illinois for four additional seasons. In addition to his duties as basketball coach at Illinois in 1911-12, he also served as Athletic Director George Hulf's only assistant in the athletic department. doubling as the school's general manager of athletics and as ticket manager. After leaving the university, he founded The Thomas Thompson Company in Highland Park, Ill., a manufacturer of enamel products.

8 years (85-34)After arriving at Illinois

from Purdne, Ralph Jones left an impressive legacy behind in

Frank Winters

2 years (25-12)

While in his two-year stint as coach of the Illinois basketball team. Frank Winters was faced with having only a handful of veteran players available and was forced into installing an entirely new system of play. His 25-12 record in two years was a testament to the way Winters made negatives into positives. Upon arriving as head coach in the fall of 1920, he inherited a team whose best player. Chuck Carney, had just severely injured his knee in the last football game. Nonetheless, the team went on to an 11-7 record and improved to 14-5 in the 1922 campaign.

Harry Combes

20 years (316-150)

Harry Combes only had to move across town after accepting the job as head coach at Illinois. Prior to joining the Illini. he had been head coach at Champaign High School where he posted an astounding 254-16 record. including winning the state title in 1946. Once at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles in his first five seasons ('19, '51 and '52). It was also Combes who led the Fighting Illini to three third-place finishes in the NCAA Tournament in the four-year period from 1949-52. The squad won 79 of the 100 games during those four years. Illinois' 1952 Final Four appearance was the first officially recognized Final Four and the only Final Four appearance Illinois made until 1989. Until Lou Henson broke the record in 1990, Combes 316 wins were the most wins ever by an Illinois head basketball coach.

Harv Schmidt

7 years (89-77)

Hary Schmidt, a former all-time great player at Illinois, returned to his alma mater in 1968 after serving as an assistant at New Mexico for three years. Within three years of his arrival, he had brought Illinois back to among the elite programs in the Big Ten. The beginning of his tenure marked what possibly was the high-water mark in fan enthusiasm. Illinois led the nation in attendance in 1970, averaging 16,128 per home contest, as students routinely camped out for tickets outside the newly opened, state-of-the-art Assembly Hall.

Gene Bartow

1 year (8-18)

Brought to Illinois to continue the magical rebuilding jobs he had undertaken at Valparaiso and Memphis State, Gene Bartow was counted on by Athletic Director Cecil Coleman to restore the successful level of play fans had become accustomed to in the past few decades. However, Bartow's stay in Champaign was short-lived, lasting only one year and producing an 8-18 record. The lure away from Illinois was a strong one for Bartow; he was hired away by UCLA to replace legendary Bruin coach John Wooden.

Lou Henson

19 years (386-199)

Lou Henson, the all-time winningest coach in Illinois basketball history, currently ranks No. 7 on the all-time active coaching list for wins with 645. Illinois has become a national power under Henson, being selected to the NCAA tournament 11 times in all, including eight times during the 1980s. The highlight of the postseason competition came in 1989 when the spectacular Flying Illini team won a school-record 31 contests and was narrowly defeated by Michigan in a national semifinal game in Scattle. Henson's Illini were also seeded among the top four in their regional for six consecutive years (1984-89) for the second-Jongest such streak (next to North Carolina) ever. Illinois finished in the upper division in the Big Ten nine consecutive seasons (1983-91), and had H straight years of producing a plus. 500 Big Ten record from 1981 to 1991, the fifth-longest streak of that kind in Big Ten history.

The Fighting Illini won their 16th consecutive Illini/Pepsi Classic in 1994.

The History of Illinois Basketball

When representatives of the University of Illinois met Dec. 2, 1905, along with officials of six other schools, not only was the Big Ten Conference formed. Illinois basketball was also born.

Since then, the Fighting Illini program has grown to national prominence, gaining a place among the country's elite basketball programs. In the ensning 90 season Illinois has been at the forefront of the Big Ten conference, as well as the national college basketball world. In those 90 seasons, Illinois has produced a 1280-713 record, one of the top-20 win totals in the nation. Its .57 f all-time winning percentage in Big Ten games is among the best in the conference.

The job of head basketball coach at Illinois has been a model of consistency throughout the 90 years. Only 13 men have served in the position, and there have only been six head coaches since 1923.

The inaugural 1906 team was coached by Elwood Brown and finished 6-8, 2-6 in conference. The first game in Illinois' basketball history was a 71-1 romp over Champaign High School in Urbana. Brown left after one season and was replaced by F.L. Pinckney. That 1907 season would turn out to be the worst season in Illinois basketball history. Pinckney guided the Fighting Illini to a

The 1915 team was perfect. The squad became Illinois' first and only team to go undefeated. Ralph Jones' 1915 team scored more than twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by a whopping three games over Chicago. The 1915 team started a three-year period in Illinois basketball history that has rarely been matched.

4-10 record, with a 0-8 conference record. The one victory marks the least wins ever by an Illinois team, and the winless conference record has also never been repeated. Among the lowlights was a 42-3 loss to Minnesota, marking the fewest points ever scored by an Illinois team.

With no place to go but up, the Illinois program welcomed its third head coach in three years when Fletcher Lane took over and guided Illinois to its biggest one-year turnaround in history. He posted a 20-6 record, 4-4 in conference play. Lane also left Illinois after his first and only season. He departed as the Fighting Illini's all-time leader in winning percentage at .769.

Herb V. Juul took over for Lane and became the first Illinois coach to stay in Champaign for more than one year. His twoyear record was 13-10 overall, and 10-10 in conference, good for fourthplace finishes both years.

T.E. Thompson took over for Juul in 1911 and also stayed two seasons, finishing his career 14-14 overall, 10-13 in conference, good for fourth and fifth places respectively.

The next eight years, from 1913-20, marked the first prolonged period of success in Illinois basketball history. Much of the success was due to head coach Ralph Jones, who had only one losing season during his eight years as head coach. He finished with an 85-34 record.

Illinois' best conference record to that point occurred in 1914, when the Fighting Illini went 7-3 in the Big Ten and 9-4 overall. That year set the stage for the 1915 season, arguably the best Illinois team ever.

The 1915 team was perfect. The squad became Illinois first and only team to go undefeated. Jones' 1915 team scored more than twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by a whopping three games over Chicago. The 1915 team started a three-year period in Illinois basketball history that has rarely been matched.

The arrival of the Woods brothers in 1915 had a lot to do with the success of this era. Guard Ray was named first team All-America all three years he competed (1915-17), and brother Ralf, a forward, led the team in scoring in both 1916 and 1917. His brilliance at the foul line led to the establishment of the Ralf Woods Award, which is still given annually to the Fighting Illini player with the best free-throw percentage.

Led by the Woods brothers, the 1916 team fell short of capturing another conference championship. The squad lost only three games, but all were in within the conference. Himois finished 13-3 overall, 9-3 in the conference. Two losses to Northwestern and a loss to eventual champion Wisconsin dropped Illinois into a second-place tie with the Wildcats. Among those two losses to Northwestern was Illinois first-ever overtime game. Northwestern scored just two points in the overtime period to defeat Illinois. 23-24. Feb. 12, 1916, at what is now the Kenney Gym Annex.

Harry Combes starred for the Illini in 1935 and later went on to coach the

The 1917 season would bring Jones his second and last Big 9 championship. this time tving with Minnesota for top honors. The 1917 team also featured a starting guard named George Halas. The professional football pioneer and Chicago Bear owner and head coach was known on the team for his gritty defense and would be named captain of the 1918 team before entering the armed forces January 18, 1918.

Frank Winters took over the head coaching duties in 1921 and would only stay at that post for two years. His 25-12 overall career record would yield two fourth-place ties in conference play.

To replace Winters. Athletic Director George Huff looked to J. Craig Ruby, who had just completed his first year as head coach of Missouri. Known as one of the great tacticians of his time. Ruby favored a number of revolutionary rules change proposals, including advocating the elimination of the dribble to do away with stalling.

Ruby's first three seasons at Illinois produced three very good teams, which went 30-18 overall and tied for the conference title in 1924. After Ruby's first three years at Illinois his coaching magic wore off for almost a decade, It wouldn't be until 1935 that the Fighting Illini would finish in the top three spots in the conference again.

The 1934 team set the stage for the 1935 championship team when it posted a £3-6 overall mark and 7-5 conference record, good for fourth place. The only non-conference loss that season was a stunning 22-24 opening-game loss to St. Louis at newly-opened Huff Gym.

The 1935 squad got off to a busy start. A seasonopening double-header at Huff Gym before 6,205 fans Dec. 10 left Illinois at 1-1 to open the season. A young sophomore guard named Harry Combes scored the first points of the season and showed great speed. He would later become Illinois' head coach in 1948. The squad was only 5-3 after eight Big Ten games, but rallied to win its last four contests to tie Purdue and Wisconsin for the title.

In 1936, Ruby's last Illinois team was 13-6 overall and 7-5 (and tied for third) in the conference, Combes, Jim Vopicka, and Robert Riegel combined to score more than half of Illinois' points that year.

The man chosen to replace Ruby was Douglas Mills. He became one of Illinois' most successful coaches and administrators as well. In his 11-year tenure as head coach, Mills became the first Fighting Illini head coach to win or share three Big Ten championships.

Mills' Illinois coaching career began in stellar fashion in 1937 with a tie for the Big Tenchampionship. With Combes. Riegel, and Vopicka back, Illinois had much of its firepower returning. Future major league baseball hall of famer Lou Boudreau made the biggest impact, however, leading the team in scoring.

The 1938 season proved to be a tough year with the departure of many stars. Boudreau was still the leader and was named first team All-America by Madison Square Garden. In the four years after the championship of '37, the best finish Illinois could muster would be third in 1939 and a tie for third-place in 1941.

In 1941. Art Mathisen arrived in Champaign in what would precede the magical years of 1912 and 1943. Mills also took over as athletic director that year.

Joining Mathisen in 1942 to form "The Whiz Kids" were Jack Smiley. Andy Phillip, Gene Vance, and Ken Menke. The teams of 12 and 43 captured the imagination of the entire nation, and to this day The Whiz Kids remain one of the most storied teams in Illinois history. The Kids dazzled crowds everywhere averaging 58 points per game, while most teams were averaging in the low 40s.

Illinois won back-to-back Big Ten crowns in *12 and *13. In 1913, the Fighting Illini went 12-0 in conference play. 17-1 overall. The lone loss was to Camp Grant at Rockford Dec. 21. Mills played mostly subs because he felt it would be better for the team to lose a game at some time.

The team was broken up March 1, 1943, when all five starters headed to active duty in the armed forces. All but Mathisen went on to play professionally, with Phillip becoming Illinois' only member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

Mills faced a major rebuilding job after the Whiz Kids departed. The 1944 team fell from the class of the Big Ten to 11-9 overall and 5-7 in the conference, good for sixth-place.

Mills' last season as head basketball eoach coincided with four of The Whiz Kids' return from military service. The largest home crowd in Illinois history, 7.785, jammed into Huff Gym to see their return Dec. 6, 1946. The Whiz Kids only played the first half, building up a 49-13 lead on Cornell College. Two losses beginning the Big Ten race got Illinois into a hole out from which the team could never climb. The Fighting Illini won eight of their last 10 games, but could only climb to a second-place tie.

Meter retiring from coaching, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Hlinois tabbed Harry Combes as Mills' replacement. Combes had been the head coach at Champaign High School. His success didn't end there. In his first nine seasons at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles and compiled an amazing record of 164-14 overall (.788) and 94-30 in the Big Ten (.758).

Combes' first team at Illinois, led by Dike Eddleman and Jack Burmaster, set a Big Ten scoring record with 4.530 points, en route to a 15-5 overall and 7-5 league finish.

The next four years would yield three Big Ten championships, and only 10 conference losses. In 1919, 1951, and 1952 Illinois would finish third in the NCAA, with the latter two clubs losing two-point decisions in the semifinals.

The 1949 team, led by Eddleman, Bill Erickson, and Walter Osterkorn, was Illinois first 20-game winner since 1908, finishing 21-4. Illinois beat Yale, 71-67, to advance to a national semifinal showdown with Kentucky at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The Wildcats thumped Illinois, 76-47, forcing Illinois to defeat Oregon State, 57-53, in Seattle for third place.

A record for games won in a season was established in 1951, when Illinois went 22-5, including a dominating 13-1 in Big Ten play. Senior Don Sunderlage scored the most points by an Illinois player in a single-season netting 471 points, a 17.4 average. Illinois lost its only conference game at Indiana Jan. 15, 64-53, temporarily putting Illinois into second place. The Fighting Illini would win their next 10 games to beat out Indiana in the final standings by one game.

Illinois again traveled to Madison Square Garden for the NCAA playoffs, beating Columbia, 79-71, and North Carolina State, 84-70, to set up another semifinal battle with Kentucky. In one of the most heart-breaking losses in Illinois basketball history. Kentucky nipped the Fighting Illini, 70-74, on a shot by Kentucky sub Shelby Linville with 12 seconds remaining in the game. Illinois once again rebounded for third place three days later, beating Oklahoma A&M, 64-46, in Minneapolis.

The biggest story of 1952 was the emergence of newcomer John Kerr, a center from Tilden Tech in Chicago. Kerr began his three-year reign atop the Illinois scoring lead with a sophomore-record 357 points. Illinois again swept to the Big Ten championship and equalled the school record for wins in a season, this time going 22-4.

The Fighting Illini headed to Chicago Stadium for the NCAA regionals, beating Dayton, 80-61, and Duquesne, 74-68, to advance to the semifinals again. This time, Illinois ran into an underdog St. John's club. The Redmen fought and clawed their way to a 61-59 win in the NCAA's first Final Four, in Seattle, Once again, Illinois took third-place beating Santa Clara, 67-64, behind 26 points by Kerr.

The next four years characterized a series of nearmisses for Illinois, which finished second in the Big Ten in 53, 55, and 56, and tied for third in 54.

Illinois' 10-4 conference mark in '54 was only good for a tie for third, but Kerr shattered Illinois' single-season scoring record by tallying 556 points in his senior year. He then departed on a 12-year pro career and became the first head coach of the Chicago Bulls in 1966.

The 1963 season produced Combes' fourth and last Big Ten championship and 20-win season, when it posted a 20-6. 11-3 record. Downey exploded for an Illinois single-game scoring record with 53 points in a road loss to Indiana, as well as set the Big Ten records for points and field goals in a game.

Illinois was a game back of first place with only two remaining when the Assembly Hall opened its doors for the first time March 4, 1963. Illinois beat Northwestern in an exciting 79-73 nail-biter before 16.137 frenzied fans to stay within a game of firstplace Ohio State. Even after Illinois edged Iowa, 73-69, on the last game of the season, the Fighting Illini would need an overtime loss two hours later by the Buckeyes at the hands of Indiana to grab a share of the conference title.

Illinois then headed to East Lansing, Mich., for the NCAA playoffs. After beating Bowling Green, 70-67. Illinois was thumped by eventual national champion Loyola, 79-6-1.

The 1965 season began with one of the biggest upsets in Illinois basketball history. The Fighting Illini crushed defending national champion UCLA.110-83, setting many Assembly Hall records. Combes would later call the game, "one of the best an Illinois team has ever played."

Combes' last season in 1967 was one of incredible ups and downs, highlighted on the court by a stunning, 98-97. overtime win over No. 3 Kentucky in Lexington Dec. 8. That year also included the uncovering of the "slush fund" scandal. Three Illinois players were disqualified as a result of the incident that eventually cost Combes his job.

Star Rich Jones, junior center Ron Dunlap, and valuable sophomore sub Steve Kuberski were suspended by the University of Illinois in the wake of the Big Ten investigation into illegal payments to the players.

Hary Schmidt, who played for the Illini in the 1950s. returned to Illinois to become head coach in 1968. Schmidt had been an assistant at New Mexico the three previous years but had no collegiate head coaching experience. His seven year-tenure began with much more success than that with which it would end.

The 1968 team was still stinging from the previous year and posted only Illinois' sixth losing season in history, going 11-13 overall and 6-8 in the Big Ten to tie for seventh place. The team won four of its first conference games, but lost seven of its last nine.

With the team's top five scorers returning, the Fighting Illini were expected to be better in 1970, but even Schmidt was surprised at the huge improvement that occurred. The elub jumped to a 19-5, 9-5 record finishing tied for second in the conference. The performance earned Schmidt third place in National Coach of the Year balloting.

The 1970 team still finished tied for third place in the Big Ten. but its record fell to 15-9. Illinois began the conference schedule 5-0 to move into sole possession of first place at the semester break. However, the team would lose the next the five games to wipe out any chance of a conference title, That season Illinois set an NCAA attendance record, selling out all 11 home games in advance for an average of 16,128 fans per game. Students frequently camped out for tickets, and Schmidt encouraged the louder students to sit near the floor to help make more noise.

After 1970, things went downhill for Schmidt, Crowds shrunk, the state's best high school players began going elsewhere, the team lost more than it had in the past, and eventually the NCAA would put Illinois on probation.

The 1971 team became Schmidt's second team in four years to finish below .500 at 11-13, 5-9. The most pleasant aspect of 1971 was the arrival of forward Nick Weatherspoon from Canton, Ohio, who stepped right into the starting lineup to lead the team in rebounds, "Spoon" would go on to lead the team in scoring and rebounding the next two years before playing eight seasons in the NBA.

The 1974 season was a disaster. Illinois finished a dismal 5-18 overall and 2-12 in the Big Ten to tie for ninth place. Schmidt was fired in the midst of a record 11-game losing streak and wound up 89-77 overall in his seven years as head coach.

To replace Schmidt, Illinois looked to Memphis State head man Gene Bartow. He was building a reputation as a coach adept at building programs from the bottom up. Bartow came in promising big things, but only a year later he was gone, accepting the head coaching job at UCLA. In his only year at Illinois, he recorded an 8-18, 4-14 record, good for a tie for a ninth place in the Big Ten.

Illinois once again chose a coach known for turning losers into winners when it picked New Mexico State head coach Lou Henson. It took Henson a couple of years to establish his program in Champaign. The first three years were unspectacular, but payed the way for better teams to come.

The 1976 team finished 14-14 overall and 7-11 in the Big Ten. The '77 squad was 16-14, 8-10, and the 1978 team finished as Henson's only sub-.500 club (until 1991-92) at 13-14, 7-11. Despite the poor record, the 1978 team signaled the arrival of Eddie Johnson and Mark Smith, two players who would lead the team into the 1980s and pave the way for Illinois' return to national prominence.

In 1979. Illinois still linished seventh in the Big Ten but went 19-11, including an ascension to No. 2 in the nation after starting the year 15-0. Although the Fighting Illini went 4-11 from that point on, they still led the nation in defensive field goal percentage (.104).

With everyone back for 1980. Illinois recorded Henson's first 20-win season at 22-13 to tie the school record for wins in a season. Illinois made its first post-season appearance since 1963, finishing third in the MT.

Bruce Douglas led the Fighting Illini in steals and assists in from 1983-86.

Illinois took another step on its ladder toward the national spotlight in 1981 when it appeared in its first NCAA Tournament since 1963. The Fighting Illini led the Big Ten in scoring for the second consecutive season and were again led by Johnson and Smith. Guards Craig Tucker and Derek Harper arrived to add backcourt punch, and Harper was named firstteam Freshman All-America by ESPN and NBC.

In 1981, Illinois recorded its highest conference finish since 1973. finishing with a 12-6 Big Ten mark and a 21-8 overall record. That team was the best shooting team in Fighting Illini history with a .509 field goal percentage. The squad received a first-round live in the NCAA tournament and beat Wyoming, 67-65, in Los Angeles to advance to the regionals in Salt Lake City, where the Illini lost to Kansas State, 57-52.

In 1982. Harper led the Big Ten in assists and steals, setting a school record for the lis with 67. By finishing 18-11 and getting another invitation to the MT, it marked the first time in history that the Fighting Illini appeared in postseason play for three consecutive years. In smashing Long Island, 126-78, in the first round, Illinois set the mark for most points ever scored in a college postseason game. Dayton, however, beat Illinois, 64-58, for Henson's fourth non-conference loss at Assembly Hall in seven years.

One of Illinois' best groups of incoming talent ever arrived in 1983, Guards Bruce Douglas and Doug Altenberger, and forwards Scott Meents and Efrem Winters joined sophomores George Montgomery and Anthony Welch to form the nucleus for a team that would win 95 games during the next four seasons.

The Fighting Illini became the 25th team to win 1.000

Illinois' 1988-89 team set a school record for victories in a season with 31 and advanced to the NCAA Final Four.

games in the second game of the year, beating Texas A&M in the Great Alaskan Shootout, 72-70. Harper fell one vote short of being named a unanimous All-Big Ten selection. before leaving school early for the NBA draft and becoming a first-round draft pick of the Dallas Mayericks. Douglas set school records for assists (189) and steals (78) in a season, as Illinois finished 21-11 and was beaten by Utah in the first round of the NCAA tournament, 52-49.

The only non-conference blemish of the '84 season was a thrilling 56-54 Christmas Eye loss to No. 1-ranked Kentucky at the Assembly Hall.

En route to a Big Ten title tie with Purdue. Illinois had four overtime games, one of which-a 75-66 win over Michigan—lasted an astounding four overtimes. The next game, a double-overtime win at lowa, was Henson's 400th as a college coach.

Illinois headed to Milwaukee to beat Villanova in the NCAA tournament, 64-56. The Fighting Illini came from behind to defeat Maryland, 72-70, in the regional semifinals to set up a showdown with host Kentucky in the regional final. Illinois never led, but was within striking distance when a controversial foul called on Douglas put Wildcat guard Dickie Beal on the line to win the game. 54-

In 1985, Basketball Times picked Illinois No. 1 nationally in its preseason poll, but the Fighting Illini were upset twice in non-conference play. Illinois would head to Atlanta for the NCAA tournament after fini-hing second in the Big Ten with a 26-9, 12-6 record. Two wins over Northeastern (76-57) and Georgia (74-58) brought about a regional semifinal tilt with Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets used a 25-10 burst to begin the second half and beat Illinois. 61-53.

Junior-college transfer Ken Norman highlighted the '86 season, setting an Illinois all-time single-season field goal percentage record of .641. The Fighting Illini once again led the Big Ten in scoring defense, allowing opponents only 61.6 ppg. Again. Illinois went to the NCAA tournament, this time thrashing Fairfield, 75-51, in Charlotte, N.C., to set up a game with Alabama. The Crimson Tide built a nine-point lead at halftime and was able to hold off Illinois, 58-56, despite 18 points from junior gnard Tony Wysinger.

With four four-year starters gone, Illinois had to replenish its troops and did so with an outstanding group of newcomers, Guards Steve Bardo, Kendall Gill, and Larry Smith joined forward Nick Anderson in a highly-touted recruiting class. The '87 team finished 23-8 overall and 13-5 in the Big Ten, good for fourth-place. Seeded third in the NCAA's Southeast Region, Illinois was beaten in arguably the school's most shocking upset ever, losing to unknown Austin Peav. 68-67.

Two first-year players led Illinois in scoring in 1988. Northern Illinois transfer Kenny Battle finally got to unveil his high-flying game for the Fighting Illini and averaged 15.6 ppg and 5.5 rpg. Anderson led the team in seoring at 15.9 ppg after sitting out the 187 season. Along with Gill, Bardo, junior forward Lowell Hamilton, and Smith. this team would lay the foundation for the spectacular '89 team. Included in the 23-10, 12-6, third-place finish was Henson's 500th victory.

Cincinnati was the site of the opening round of the 1988 NCAA tournament, and Illinois disposed of another relativeunknown, Texas-San Antonio, 81-72. A rematch with Villanova, to whom Illinois lost in Hawaii earlier in the year, ended with disappointment again, 66-63.

The 1989 team may very well have been the most talented teamever assembled at Illinois. It was comprised of all of the important pieces from '88, as well as junior-college All-American P.J. Bowman and former high school All-American Marcus Liberty.

The team shattered most of its all-time records, including most points in a season (3.110), most steals in a season (341), and most wins in a season (31), in addition to setting an all-time mark for points in a game in a 127-100 victory at LSU. The Fighting Illini won their first 16 games and were ranked No. 2 in the nation going into a nationally televised game against Georgia Tech, whom Illinois had already beaten, 80-75, at The Rainbow Classic in December. The Yellow Jackets led, 47-31, after scoring the first basket of the second half, but Illinois managed to surge back to force overtime, eventually needing two extra sessions to win the game.

Along with the No. I ranking the next day, Illinois found out that the club's catalyst, Gill, had broken a bone in his foot and would miss the next 12 games. Hurt by the loss of Gill, the team lost the No. 1-ranking and three of its next four games, but rallied to finish second in the Big Ten with a 14-4 conference record.

With Gill back in the lineup, Illinois was awarded the No. I seed in the Midwest region in the NCAA tournament and rolled to victories over McNeese State and Ball State at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis. A power-packed regional in Minneapolis, consisting of Illinois, Missouri, Louisville, and Syracuse, stood in the way of the Fighting Illini's first trip to the Final Four since 1952. Louisville fell victim to Illinois first, losing, 83-69, to set up a duel with Syracuse. The Fighting Illini held off the Orangemen to advance to Seattle where Illinois faced Michigan, a team it had already beaten twice that year. Despite Battle's 29-point, 11-rebound effort, Michigan defeated Illinois, 83-81.

In April of '89, high school All-American Deon Thomas signed a national letter of intent with Illinois. In the ensuing 17 months, Illinois was dragged through a grueling NCAA investigation which eventually found no major wrong doings in the Fighting Illini program, but resulted in a three-year probation limiting scholarships and recruiting severely.

On the court, Fighting Illini went 21-8 overall and 11-7 in the Big Ten to tie for fourth place. Gill became the first player since Norman in '87 to average 20 ppg and was named first-team All-America by UPL. He was also a finalist for the John Wooden Award and was the fifth player chosen in the NBA draft that summer, going to the Charlotte Hornets.

Illinois seemed to be peaking going into the NCAA tournament, winning its last two games, a home dousing of lowa, and a hard-fought win at Indiana, in which Gill became the first Illinois player to lead the Big Ten in scoring since Andy Phillip had done so in 1943. The Fighting Illini were seeded lifth in the Midwest region and headed to Austin. Texas, to face Dayton. In another big postseason upset, the Flyers stayed with Illinois the entire way and won, 88-80.

Going into the 1991 season no one expected much of Illinois. After losing Gill. Bardo, and Liberty, who declared himself eligible for the NBA draft a year early. Illinois was picked as low as ninth in the Big Ten by some publications.

Kendall Gill earned first-team All-America honors in 1990 after leading the Big Ten in scoring as a senior.

Junior forward Andy Kaufmann burst upon the scene scoring 660 points, the second largest single-season total in Blinois history. A three-game sweep of favored opponents LSU. Missouri, and Memphis State set the stage for the Fighting Illini's surprise tie for third in the Big Ten and a 21-10 overall finish. Thomas began his career, after sitting out 1990, scoring the most points ever by an Illinois freshman.

In 1991-92, the Fighting Illini took the court without a senior letterman for the first time in more than 50 years and saw their record dip below .500 for the first time since 1977-78 and only the second time in the Lou Henson era. Andy Kaufmann, the leading scorer from the previous year, had to sit out the entire year with academic problems, which only added to the Illini's woes.

The Illini's string of consecutive upper-division Big Ten finishes was snapped at nine as was their string of 20plus victory seasons. Illinois' streak of plus-,500 Big Ten records also came to an end, at 11.

The return of Andy Kaufmann marked yet another turn-around for Illinois. After sitting out a season. Kaufmann helped lead the 1992-93 team to a 19-13 record. The team also notched its first NCAA-tournament victory since the 1989 "Flying Illini" visited the Final Four.

The Fighting Illini again advanced to the NCAA tournament in 1994, but the most memorable moment of the season occurred in early December when Deon Thomas broke a 13-year-old record and became Illinois' all-time leading scorer. Thomas scored his record-breaking 1.693rd point in the championship game of the Illini/Pepsi Classic and went on to finish the season with 2.129 career points.

Deon Thomas became Illinois' all-time leading scorer during the 1993-94 season.

Media Procedure for Interviews with Illinois Coaches, Athletes and Administrators

To facilitate the schedules of Division of Intercollegiate Athletics' (DIA) coaches and administrators and to expedite media requests, the University of Illinois Sports Information Office encourages media personnel to arrange interview requests through the Sports Information staff. Whenever circumstances prevent media personnel the time or opportunity to follow this procedure, DIA coaches and administrators are encouraged to accommodate media requests. This interview procedure is designed to enhance the availability of DIA staff members to answer questions from the media at a time which best facilitates each individual's schedule. Telephone calls to the homes of DIA staff members from the media may be made upon consent of the individual coach or staff member.

Interview requests from the media for University of Illinois student-athletes should be arranged through the Sports Information Office. Media personnel are asked not to call the student-athlete at his residence.

In most situations, the most convenient opportunity for media interviews is prior to the team practice sessions. If this is not a convenient time for the media, return telephone calls from the athletes to the media will be arranged. The student-athletes' academic endeavors are of the utmost importance, and they will not be asked to miss classes for purposes of a media interview. In most situations, student-athletes are not available on the day of scheduled intercollegiate competition until after the event is completed.
